

Marc Mastronardi
Chief Stores Officer
Macy's Inc.

Marc Mastronardi was appointed chief stores officer in 2020. Prior to this role, Marc was Macy's senior vice president of store operations and customer experience. In this role since March 2019, Marc led enterprise-wide store operations, selling, and customer service teams.

Prior to this appointment, Marc was executive vice president of business development, leading multiple functions in the creation and expansion of new business concepts, leased partnerships, diverse owner lead businesses and the restaurant organization within Macy's across the nation.

Marc previously served as EVP/general merchandise manager, with responsibilities for the Center Core categories. For more than 20 years, Marc has held a broad range of leadership responsibilities at Macy's, including Men's Apparel, Women's Apparel and Accessories, and Children's clothing.

Prior to Macy's, Marc held various merchant roles for May Department stores in Boston.

He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Finance and Accounting from Boston College.