

Virtual Volunteering: Help Fight the Impact of COVID-19 With Delivering Good

At Delivering Good, we have 35 years of experience in addressing all forms of crisis and disaster. While the urgent need is currently medical, the longer tail of COVID-19 will be economic and social. We are supporting communities impacted across the country RIGHT NOW. People are already facing the economic fallout from this pandemic, especially people in lower wage jobs and those already in vulnerable circumstances.

If you have time to dedicate as a “Virtual Volunteer”, help us mobilize the fashion, home, footwear, personal care, beauty, children’s or toy industries...we need your support. Please reach out to your network TODAY and spread the word!

Join with Delivering Good and our supporters, retailers and manufacturers to help people in need. We assist individuals and families recovering from the economic impact of COVID-19 through our network of 700 community partners. Delivering Good serves all fifty states, as well as international partners. We are up and running, supporting people facing poverty, homelessness, job loss and more.
