

Quentin Pell Bio

Quentin is the founder of Q5 Advisory, a consulting firm providing ESG services to privately held and publicly traded Fortune 500 companies.

Whether creating an ESG program from scratch, guiding an existing one to the next level, or fine-tuning a world-class effort, Quentin ensures that an ESG program creates long-term value and resilience for the company.

A successful ESG program creates value, mitigates risk, and incorporates a company's business strategy. A well-crafted ESG narrative, built on trust and transparent reporting, addresses stakeholder concerns, and demonstrates management's commitment to good corporate governance.

Quentin has over 20 years of experience in all aspects of governance, having held leadership roles in Corporate Communications, Reputation and Crisis Management, Enterprise Risk Management, ESG Reporting, and acting as Chief of Staff.

Clients rely on his deep understanding of Corporate Structure, Investor Relations, Financial Reporting, Governance, and Business Operations.

Quentin received an MBA and BA from Southern Methodist University in Texas. In addition to being on the board of Delivering Good, Inc. he is a member of the National Association of Corporate Directors and currently lives in Durham, NC
