

Taylor Gray

Taylor Gray has been a trustee and treasurer of the Countess Moira Charitable Foundation since its inception and is a member of the board of directors of Exponent Philanthropy, a national, member-led community of lean funders.

His interest in promoting practical and scalable approaches to qualitative and quantitative impact measurement in the philanthropic space is an outgrowth of his long career in the financial services industry. He volunteers his time and expertise to grantees of the foundation and to other entities as well.
